

With 6,200 employees in research, teaching and administration and its unique profile, TU Dortmund University shapes prospects for the future: the interaction between engineering and natural sciences as well as social and cultural studies drives both technological innovations and progress in knowledge and methodology. It is not only the roughly 34,500 students who benefit from this.

Being part of a university of technology, the Faculty of Business and Economics is particularly committed to the central thematic area of “technology and innovation”.

The Faculty of Business and Economics at TU Dortmund University is seeking to fill the position of a commencing as soon as possible. The successful candidate will specialize in research and teaching in the field of “Management”.

This professorship will reinforce the faculty’s research area of “Innovation and Technology”. We are looking for an expert in the field of business management (preferably in corporate entrepreneurship or international management) with a proven record of publications in peer-reviewed international journals and experience in conducting empirical research projects in the respective discipline. Experience in raising third-party funds is expected. Applicants should be willing to contribute to interdisciplinary collaborative research projects.

The candidate will be required to participate appropriately in teaching classes (in both German and English) within the faculty’s degree programs. Teaching will focus on management.

The successful candidate will possess social and leadership skills and be willing to be involved in academic self-governance.

Preconditions for employment are specified in § 36 and § 37 HG NRW (law governing universities in NRW).

TU Dortmund University strives to increase the number of women in academic research and teaching and therefore explicitly encourages women to apply.

TU Dortmund University is an equal opportunity employer and gives preference to candidates with disabilities if equally qualified.

TU Dortmund University supports the compatibility of work and family life and promotes gender equality in science.
